UCI announced that beginning Saturday, March 19, 2022, the University will be easing up on some of our COVID-19 campus protocols (https://uci.edu/coronavirus/). Face coverings will be recommended indoors but not required, regardless of vaccination status, and will be optional outdoors. This guidance aligns with the California Department of Public Health and the CDC and applies to childcare settings as well as TK-12th grade schools.

For our staff and children ages 2 and older, the decision to wear (or not wear) a face covering will be a personal choice. If you would like your child to continue wearing a face covering while at the center, please let your child’s teacher know and be sure to bring the required number of face coverings to school each day (3).

We know that there are many factors that go into the decision to wearing a face covering or not and we will support and respect the decisions made by families and staff.

As always, we will be working with our campus COVID-19 response team and will adjust any protocols as needed in case of a rise in infection rates or new public health guidance.

Central to the philosophy of the Infant Toddler Center is the premise that children need to feel physically and emotionally safe in order to achieve their maximum potential in all areas of development. “All babies and toddlers need positive early learning experiences to foster their intellectual, social and emotional development and lay the foundation for later school success.” (source: Zero To Three)

Parents, caregivers, and children form a respectful, responsive and reciprocal partnership with the goal in mind of providing as much continuity as possible between home and school. Of primary concern is the establishment of a strong emotional bond between caregivers and children. Additionally, we are interested in strengthening families to meet the varied demands of maintaining a career and a family in a rapidly changing world.
Individualized Care

At UCI Infant Toddler Center, we strive daily to provide high-quality, individualized, responsive and stimulating experiences that occur within the context of strong relationships and which are imbedded in everyday routines.

● Each child will have his/her own cubby, crib or cot, and place for personal belongings.

● Children under age 12 months are not all on the same schedule. They play, eat, and sleep according to their own schedule and based on information parents share during drop off time. We provide responsive care according to each child’s individual needs and routine.

● By the time the children are about a year old, their routine is more predictable and similar to that of the other children. Typically they will follow a similar daily schedule. Having a routine that is generally the same each day provides consistency and structure for the children, which helps them to feel safe because they know what to expect.
The UCI Child Care Services Department uses a curriculum framework that encompasses the following areas:

- Outdoor Classroom—outdoor play and nature education
- Kindness/Mindfulness—teaching about empathy, compassion, respect, kindness, and mindfulness
- Inclusion/Anti bias curriculum—celebrating differences and including all members of our community
Curriculum for infants and toddlers is largely based on the following:

- Relationships: Respectful and responsive interactions
- Caregiving routines: Increasing awareness, fostering development and positive identity during mealtimes, diaper changes, nap times, etc.
- Carefully planned activities, materials, experiences and environments that are based on and responsive to children’s developmental needs and interests. These include the following developmental areas:
  - Approaches to Learning and Self Regulation
  - Social and Emotional Development
  - Language and Literacy Development
  - Cognitive Development (including Math and Science)
  - Physical Development (including health, safety, personal care routines)

Teachers will bring out riding toys, balls, sand toys, and other materials for the children to play with.
ITC has four garden beds where children can dig, plant seeds, and water plants that they are growing. We also have a small orchard that includes apple, lemon, peach, and avocado trees.

Tending a garden with children is one of the ways we model and teach kindness, compassion, and care for our earth and each other.
Infants sleep in a crib until they are one year old. We have a safe sleep policy for infants up to 12 months old.

Children ages 12 months and up sleep on cots. ITC provides all the bedding.

All children are supervised by staff while sleeping.
